AdEffective Launches Yieldom- A New Domain Name Monetisation Platform

AdEffective Limited (AdEffective or the Company) announces the launch of Yieldom, the second of its three major online advertising platform initiatives.

- Yieldom formally launches in the US, 2 February 2011 at DOMAINfest.
- Yieldom launching with a portfolio of 20,000 domain names, growing to 150,000 shortly after launch.
- Yieldom is launched in partnership with Park Logic and Distribute Your Articles.

Yieldom is a new online advertising platform for managing, monetizing and reporting on parked domain names and domain portfolios, combining 'best of breed' monetization sources (including AdEffective's recently launched Footar platform) and reporting with a proprietary platform for improving yield on traditionally low value parked domain names and/or domain portfolios.

Yieldom has forged an exclusive partnership with Distribute Your Articles (DYA), the industry leader in digital content distribution. DYA provides human-written, editorial-reviewed content in the form of informational articles, opinion pieces and unbiased product reviews.

DYA provides exclusively to Yieldom over 600,000 edited articles in over 1000 verticals and is adding over 20,000 articles to the platform every week.

Each site in a domain portfolio receives specifically relevant content, consistently delivered in a way that encourages web visitors to frequently return to, or even bookmark, the domain.

Syndication by DYA utilizes Enterprise-class technology, a full-time staff of native-English speaking content editors, and defined processes honed over many years and hundreds of millions of article distributions.

Yieldom features a customer domain management platform developed by ParkLogic on the acclaimed Salesforce.com system which provides a robust highly scalable solution as well as rapid development and deployment.

The Yieldom domain solution has been developed to better monetize the approx. 80% of domains that do not generate sufficient traffic to be viable. Yieldom customers will enjoy an instant insight into the true value of their domains while generating significant upside through industry leading monetisation and optimisation.

“At today’s launch, the Yieldom platform has over 10,000 domain names live with another 10,000 due online in the coming days.” Said Dean Jones, Managing Director of AdEffective Limited. “By the end of February, we will have 150,000 domains running on the Yieldom platform.”
